

This lithograph evokes a figure's breath of consciousness, the metaphoric river of its title suggesting the mortal stream of life. The hatted figure might be an avatar for the artist, emerging momentarily out of the flux of a stygian darkness.

Brent Harris 2020