

Anna K Baldwin Contemporary jewellery

I make all my jewellery by hand, working in silver, gold, and semi-precious stones, and love creating beautiful, contemporary, wearable pieces. My designs have an organic, tactile feel, often incorporating hammering and shaping techniques to create movement. I gain inspiration from light, texture, and natural and fluid forms, and from simply working with the metal to develop new designs. It's important to me that my jewellery is comfortable to wear, so I 'road-test' each design.
