Author

Serena Y. Li is the founder of Duck Duck Books and author of its first books. Her books teach children from newborn to five about diversity, equity, and inclusion. Each book is available in English, Traditional Chinese-English, Simplified Chinese-English, Cantonese-English, and Spanish-English.

Designer

Abe Wong lives in the Seattle area as a creative director by day, and by night he raises his three daughters. He works hard to preserve a bilingual household and make sure his girls learn about their Chinese background and culture, along with understanding the complex world we live in. Duck Duck Books has rekindled a child-like joy in creating books that are fun and meaningful.
