Downtown Las Vegas hotels come in a variety of different sizes. You will find that there are five-star hotels that offer all the services that you would expect when you visit a five-star hotel. These include top-of-the-line restaurants, casinos, nightclubs and sports bars. The hotels in this part of town cater to all the different needs of their guests. In addition to having these services the hotels also have several shops and other amenities that are found in any type of high-class hotel.

All of the hotels that are located on this strip are going to charge you according to your budget. However, in order to get the most out of your hotel room it is important to check into the availability of parking. The size of your family is another important factor in determining the type of hotels that you would like to stay in. If you are looking for something that is a bit more modest than the high-end hotels then you may want to consider a mid-range hotel for your stay in Las Vegas.
