BATTLEFIELD MAPS

A reprint of Michelin's historic 1947 map of Normandy, showing the D-Day Landing sites, the subsequent troop movements, and the battle progressions that established an Allied foothold in the region.

Coverage extends beyond the five landing beaches (Utah, Omaha, Gold, Juno and Sword): along the coast from Le Harve and the Seine estuary to the western side of the Cotentin Peninsula and Mont-St-Michel, and inland to include the Falaise ñ Mortain pocket.

Back Cover

- Antique-feeling reproduction of the map originally published by Michelin in 1947
- Primary and secondary road network of the time
- Clear indication of castles, places of worship, ruins and other facilities
- Movement of troops and dates of military advances
