GOT BAG

#1

WORLD'S FIRST BACKPACKS MADE OF OCEAN IMPACT PLASTIC

Passionate about water sports, GOT BAG founder Benjamin Mandos had the business idea to collect and recycle plastic waste from the oceans and coastal areas of Southeast Asia to turn it into sustainable travel gear. In 2016, he developed the iconic GOT BAG ROLLTOP, the world's first backpack made of Ocean Impact Plastic.

With our own clean-up program in Indonesia, we are collecting plastic from the ocean and from coastal areas showing ways to holistically tackle plastic pollution with a pioneering supply chain. As a community, we have set an example for an innovative product culture and to inform people around the world about the conscious use of natural resources. Thus, creating a positive impact for people and the environment with the GOT BAG Community and our timeless, minimalist backpacks and bags.

ABOUT US

RESPONSIBILITY

All of our partners are carefully selected with an emphasis on quality, business ethics, and operational excellence. We treat everyone involved with respect and we care about all of our relationships with global associates.

DEVELOPMENT

Together with our partners, we are looking for innovative solutions to further develop our supply chain. In the future, our goal is to be able to process more types of plastic. In doing so, we demonstrate that ecological and economic goals do not have to contradict each other.

Our products stand for innovation, longevity and a modern product culture. The removable 15" laptop sleeve can also be used as an additional inner pocket with 4 compartments.

Resists Wind and Weather
Due to a PVC- and PFC-free coating of our materials, the products are water and dirt-repellent.

INNOVATIVE COATING

The extremely robust fabric made of Ocean Impact Plastic protects the GOT BAG products from moisture. All GOT BAG products are treated with a waterproof PU or TPU coating on the inside and an additional water and dirt-repellent PU or DWR (Durable Water Repellency) on the outside.

FOR YOU!
