Immortal Luke Haruspex Guide I finished the game with my Immortal Luke Haruspex for some time now, so I decided to make this guide. You may not do much wrong with this build, but I thought it was still worth it. Attribute Points went for 1 : 1 dex : str until I reached about 450 dex and then put all the points in force. The Points skill started with a hunt and climbed a tree to put 2 points in skill and 1 point in the skills available when levelling up. I maxed wood knowledge and put one point into all the other useful skills in the process. When I have reached the top of the tree I spend several levels putting points in the volleyball and scattering the shots. I ran into some minor mana problems and had to equip some rings with Hecate to counteract this. Level 20 it was time to climb the dream tree, I'm in no hurry as I did with the hunting tree, but still put 1 of 2 points of skill into skill and put other points into the most important skills, maxing out scattering shots and learning the loot and putting some in the puncture shot and the art of hunting as well. On the fourth tier of Dream I spend points in ToC, which took care of my previous energy problems and on the fifth tier I put the dots in a temporary stream. Level 40 level 40 and 60 I was maxing out the dream tree. I also maxed out the puncture shot and Lucid dream tree. At the beginning of Legendary I took monster bait and made a lot of gorgon sisters and hydra running. Level 60 it's you can max a shooting tree and grab some points in your sleep or DR/TR, but it won't make much difference. Endgame Gears: Weapons: Bramblewood Bow with Incarnation of AchillesHead: The Consecrated Steering of Immortality with the epitome of Heracles Might or HoodTorso Trackers: Any veteran armor socketed with mechanical parts with a flat DA bonus or Alexander's Cuirass, at least 15% CtapArm: Stonebinders cuffs with Fury Ares or Phobos (when wearing Alexander and Hallowed Helmed) Legs: Batrachos Greaves socketed with something that gives you a flat DA as a completion bonusRings: 2x Apollo WillAmulet: Myrmidon in PendantArtifact: The Isis Knot Is relatively easy to find, you don't need trackers Phobos, amidon pendant or Apollo's will, do the job. You can farm Gorgon sisters for Gorgon Sash veterans, at least 20% Ctap and for for Cuffs. Then you can farm Soronis for Batrachos Greaves and Bramblewood Onions. These are just two places for the farm to get the things you need to get immortal and have the best bow in the game, and have taken care of at least 3 skills. ProThis is arguably the best build in the game, the Myrmidon suspension and hallowed Helm will give you a max stun to resist and almost max vitality to resist on top of the 2k DA and 100% Ctap. Against groups of monsters you are also offensive at the highest level, because of the exploration of prey and scattershotsContraYou is not the fastest of the killers against a single boss, the conqueror, for example, will do much better. You're actually faster on boss killing on Xmax, like on Vanilla TK. You are vulnerable against repelling damaging monsters (Toxeus, Typhon, Draconians) Strong AOE effects can still kill you, beware of Dactyl and Toxeus.Check The full guide and mod list: Titan's quest guide, Patches, Fashions and Utilities List Author Theme: Need a good Haruspex build (Read 6267 times) 0 members and 2 guests viewing this theme. Tags: In: Weapon Class, Point Class, Fight Edit Share Elements and Weapons - Lukes are one of the seven classes of weapons in the Titan quest. These are two-armed weapons used to fight at range. All bows have a very slow attack rate and do 25% pier damage, however some epic and legendary bows like Telliam will do 50% pier damage. Pierce's injury ignores the target's armor, instead reducing it to their puncture resistance. The bows are the only items in the Titan quest that can be extended with the relic of Bowstring Artemis, which adds puncture damage and attack speed to the bow. Hunting Mastery has many skills focused on using bows, some of which are designed to enhance the range of combat using onions.
