Secret addresses from stylish people

HEDDY ISLAM is the director of the west London furniture and accessories shop Space. She is also an interior designer and the co-founder of Eklego Design, a Cairo-based architecture, interiors and furniture-design firm. jamspace.uk

Strand New York

This has a good choice of second-hand design books – you can get lost browsing for hours and find great out-of-print editions. strandbooks.com

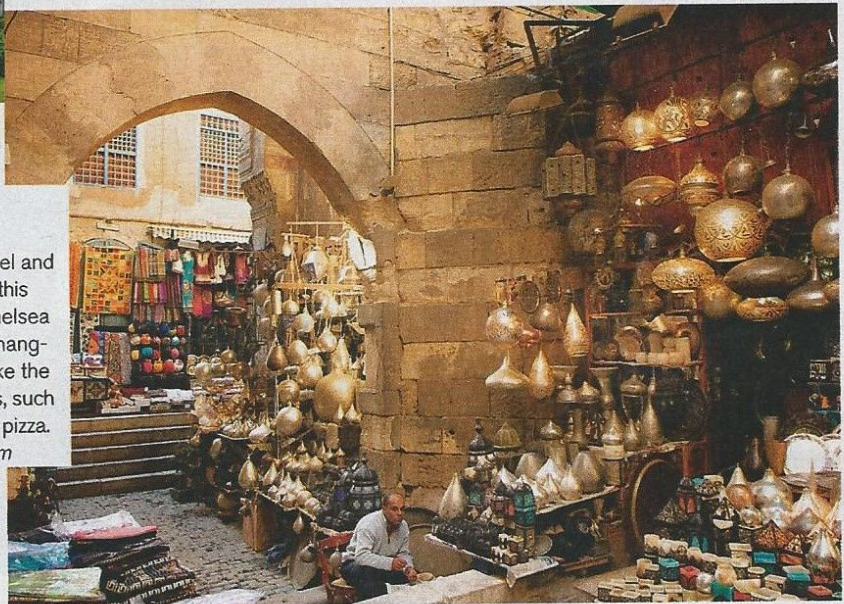

L'Enclume Cumbria

I love the juxtaposition of old and new in this traditional building furnished in a modern, elegant way. The vegetarian version of the menu is tasty, innovative and breathtakingly beautiful. Simon Rogan's dishes are works of art. lenclume.co.uk

Kurobuta

London SW3
Its down-to-earth feel and open kitchen make this Japanese pub in Chelsea one of my favourite hang-outs. I particularly like the reinterpreted dishes, such as raw-tuna wasabi pizza. kurobuta-london.com

Khan el-Khalili Cairo

I adore walking through the oldest souk in Cairo, surrounded by hammered brass and copper ware, patchwork fabric and jewellery. The burning incense, chattering people and abundant crafts fill one with sensory bliss.

Humawaca

Buenos Aires
This designer brand's claim to fame is the Butterfly backpack, inspired by the butterfly chair. The Argentine leather is remarkably supple yet sturdy, and pieces are dyed in rich and vibrant shades. humawaca.com

Toast

Carmarthenshire
I thoroughly enjoy browsing through this Welsh clothes store. The unique, elegant cuts in quality textiles can be dressed up or down. toa.st
