

VENCE SCONCE | Athena Calderone x Simone Bodmer-Turner

The Vence Sconce is one of two limited-edition pieces designed by Athena Calderone and Simone Bodmer-Turner. Inspired by shells often found in old European churches, the piece is a decorative ode to the holy water basins at Chapelle du Rosarie – a small church in the hillside north of Nice that was the iconic artist Henri Matisse’s final project for his nurse, caretaker, and muse Sister Jacques-Marie.

Display: Sculpture or Light Sconce

Finish: Textured white clay

Hardwire: UL-certified LED light insert

Dimensions: 23.5" H x 9.5" W
