OLD RECTORY HOUSE WEDDING FAQs

Do you have a sound limiter?

No, we do not have a sound limiter, however we do request if you wish to book a Band for your evening reception that they have an electric drum kit as the acoustics of drum kits against our glass windows is uncomfortable for guests and the noise vibrates distorting the band. For further details on this please see our Music Policy.

Our recommended suppliers are also attached for DJs and bands, but we do also allow external suppliers not listed if they have a site visit and supply all relevant insurance and PAT testing certificates before your wedding celebrations.

We have a full licence for background music throughout the whole venue and outside in our gardens and we are also fully licensed for live music inside The Orangery.

Do you allow Confetti?

We allow real petal or organic confetti outside in the grounds of the venue.

There is central heating throughout the whole venue and accommodation rooms and the Orangery has an air conditioning system that can be adjusted to heating or air con.

Will the chairs and decorations be moved if required following wedding ceremony?

Yes, our staff will move your decorations, flowers and chairs following your ceremony. If your wedding ceremony takes place in the Orangery, we will require an additional 30 mins to be added on to your reception drinks time to turn the room around for your wedding breakfast meal.

What size tables do you have?

We have round guest tables in the Orangery that seat a maximum of 10 guests.

The Orangery allows a top table for up to 10 guests either facing our gardens or the vinal entrance of The Orangery depending on your preference.
