FASHION AND HIGH SOCIETY
OCTOBER 4, 2022

Fall is looking full of delightful moments with these wonderful fashion statements for her. The perfect bag for both day and night can be found with Carla Busso Handbag. From New York City Fashion Week shows to work meetings for lunch this is a piece you must have!

A look and feel of luxury is found in every inch of these designs that hail from a story starts with a desire to follow a creative passion and see just how far it can lead.

Designer Carla Busso, who was born in Argentina with Italian roots, represents a combination that means a double passion for finding the joy in life.

As the company states, "Designer purses became a way for Carla to express herself and bring some much-needed inspiration into a completely classical corporate environment. They also became a way for her to indulge herself, with a strong sense of satisfaction anytime she'd get asked about her various leather companions. Rather than being an exception, Carla found herself getting asked about her bags everywhere she went, including when she was at the gym, the airport, walking down the street, and out with friends."

When you carry these incredible designs a sense of euphoria overtakes you. Moments of pure joy enter your mind as you begin to comprehend the unique beauty discovered in your handbag.

From inside to outside, every piece of materials used to make this bag is handcrafted to perfection. You will walk around town feeling both glorious and fashionable. This bag represents quality, passion and therefore also pride.

Here is to a very fashionable season. Feel good this fall and beyond with Carla Busso Handbags.
