

In your writing, sometimes you get the different versions of 'there' mixed up.

- ✓ 'There' this version is the place. E.g. Over there. You're going to Spain in the summer?

 I'm going there too this year!
- ✓ 'They're' this version means "they are". E.g. They're going to the park on Saturday. Are you sure they're going?
- √ 'Their' this is when something belongs to someone. E.g. That's their car. Have you seen the state of their hair?

Now it's your turn. Write the correct version of there/they're/their in the space below.

1.	The shops are over _
2.	. Have you tried		cooking? It's really good.
3.		going out to the sho	ps.
4.	If I can see you over	then you need a new hiding place.
5.		going for lunch now.
6.	is too much noise in here! My ears hurt, there/they're/their going
7.	to pop. I can see that	work is	of a really high standard.	/
	going to be getting some smilies!			() (
8.	Is	a reason	talking?	1
9.	The rain has been so	heavy that	is a puddle over	`
10	·)	going over	with	ball.
