Choosing a Paint Color & Finish:

Please select an interior paint color or a color of Roman Clay for your work.

---

1 INTERIOR PAINT COLORS

Please select from KEIM's website here if you would like an interior color that is not Roman Clay.

2 PAINT FINISHES

Monica Curiel Fine Art pieces are created using natural, mineral, water-based, and low-to-no VOC paints. The majority of works follow these material guidelines; however, pieces with high gloss finishes may involve the use of traditional aerosols.

If you have a preference for a color from a specific paint company, kindly include that information in your inquiry.

3 ROMAN CLAY

Roman clay is a special paint finish made from natural ingredients. It has a much thicker consistency than regular paint with a very slight sheen, especially when left unsanded. It creates a finish similar to Venetian plaster and resembles a natural stone that is usually smooth and soft to the touch.

If you prefer the look of a Roman clay finish, select your color here. Roman clay finishes have the same finish so it is not necessary to choose a finish.

Custom sizes not included in the price sheet can be requested through a quote. Each Monica Curriel piece is meticulously crafted by hand on a custom wooden panel with hardware attached for easy hanging. The weight of each piece varies based on the composition, with larger pieces typically weighing between 40-70 lbs.

Please keep in mind that the prices listed below do not include trade discounts, shipping, or tax.

Additionally, lead times and prices may vary. If you require a faster lead time, please contact Monica to arrange a specific timeframe.
