

giving back 100%
of profits

grace farms™

corporate partnership program introduction

Welcome to Grace Farms

We are a community of tea & coffee enthusiasts who work together to make the world a more just, sustainable, and peaceful place.

However, we didn't start with brews and blends, but rather we started with a group of passionate people: founders and farmers, industry leaders and policy makers, artists and architects, tea masters and coffee roasters - all coming together at a new kind of place, called Grace Farms.

Nestled in New Canaan, CT, just 40 miles from NYC, Grace Farms is a nonprofit cultural and humanitarian center, taking an innovative and entrepreneurial approach to making the world a better place.

Let us share a little more.

Together, we are building a community of tea & coffee enthusiasts who are making the world a more just, sustainable & peaceful place.

Meet Sharon Prince,
Founder and CEO of Grace Farms Foundation

The world today

Our Challenges

Fact: There are more people trapped in slavery today than any other time in our history.

Injustice

43% of workers in the agricultural supply chain are women, and on average paid less than men.¹

Discrimination against women, who are overrepresented in the lowest-paying tasks, underrepresented in decision making, and often face violence and harassment.

Sustainability

94% of all food consumed is grown or produced using unsustainable farming practices.²

The use of chemical fertilizers and pesticides is depleting our soils' fertility, destroying biodiversity, harming farmers, and affecting our health.

Peace

There are >28 million children and adults living without freedom and trapped in some form of forced labor today.³

Forced labor is a $150 billion illegal industry in which marginalized people are subjected to work for little to no pay under coercion or threat of violence to subsidize corporate profits.

What if we could help solve
each of these global problems with a cup of coffee or tea?
We audaciously believe we can.

Ending Injustice

Grace Farms is the first and only US-based tea brand to partner with Fairtrade America to source ingredients that are traded, certified, audited and sourced from farms that contribute to sustainable development for certified producers. Fair trade means fair prices for producers, dignified working conditions, and the foundation for impactful social change.

Grace Farms sources coffee exclusively from women-led co-ops around the world empowering female farmers, leaders, and entrepreneurs to provide for their families and communities.

The Fairtrade mark that represents Fairtrade is considered the gold standard of fair trade certifications by independent evaluators and is most recognized internationally. Grace Farms is the first US-based tea brand to meet these higher standards of sourcing.

Meet Adam Thatcher,
Co-Founder and CEO of Grace Farms Foods
Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta, Colombia

Demonstrating Sustainability

Grace Farms sources organic ingredients for all its products which are better for you, your family, farmers, and the planet. We partner with small farms and tea gardens that practice biodynamic farming practices which help restore soil health, water retention, and promote biodiversity.

Meet Frank Kwei,
Grace Farms' Tea Master
Puthajahora Tea Garden, West Bengal, India.

Building Peace

giving back 100%
of profits

Uniquely positioned at the intersection of architecture and human rights, Grace Farms asked the question:

- 'Are the schools, offices, and cultural institutions we inhabit everyday made with forced labor?'
- We found out the answer is, 'very likely, yes'.

Today, Design For FREEDOM™ is the leading movement to end forced labor in the architecture and construction industries, the largest industrialized sector in the world, with a focus on building materials supply chains. 100% of profits support Design For FREEDOM™ to end forced labor worldwide.

-To learn more, go to designforfreedom.org

Grace Farms, CT

“Much more than a coffee and tea brand, now Grace Farms is a community-driven force for good with a clear commitment to giving back through a new 100% not-for-profit owned business model.”

Sharon Prince

Founder and CEO of Grace Farms Foundation on the creation of Grace Farms Foods, LLC (a public benefit subsidiary of Grace Farms Foundation)

100% not-for-profit
owned

Selimbong Tea Garden in Darjeeling, India.

Grace Farms, CT.

Deliciously sophisticated and authentically crafted tea blends curated by Grace Farms' resident tea master & educator, Frank Kwei.

Grace Farms Foods offers a portfolio of 15 organic teas and herbal blends made with fair trade ingredients.

Grace Farms is the only premium coffee brand to exclusively source coffees from women-led co-ops around the world.

Grace Farms Foods offers 3 exceptional coffees in whole bean and ground, including our signature River Roast blend and 2 single origin coffees from Colombia and Indonesia.

Santa Marta, Colombia

Corporate Partnership Programs

Grace Farms' team of coffee and tea experts has created a unique portfolio of organic and fair trade teas and a select line of premium coffees ideal for office kitchenettes, cafeterias, board rooms, and client or employee gifts.

Our customizable product offerings include:

- Tea amenity boxes for offices, kitchenettes, meeting rooms and event spaces
- Organic Wellness Teas & Iced Teas for employees
- Ground & whole bean coffee for kitchenettes and catering
- Save up to 25% off retail pricing with simple online ordering & direct shipping

Beyond The Product Is Partnership

Delight your employees' return to the office with extraordinary teas and coffees that show how much your company cares. Let's host a special tea tasting with your team at Grace Farms or in your offices!

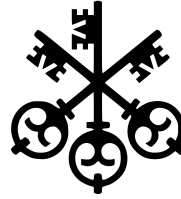

Demonstrate in a simple, but very visible way that your company gives back to social and environmental causes every day. Highlight our partnership in impact reports or with shareholders, employees, and potential partners.

Join Grace Farms' extensive network of industry leaders and change-makers that are working together to advance good in the world. Grace Farms Foundation offers a wide variety of programs that bring you into our work and community.

A Few Of Our Exceptional Partners

JPMORGAN CHASE & Co.

UBS

MASS.

sh p

Sciame

FASTCOMPANY

Grace Farms in the press

Steeped in Purpose: How a Coffee & Tea Company Is Forging a New Kind of Social Entrepreneurship Forbes

"demonstrate and educate about ethical and sustainable supply chains"

Show more

Adam Thatcher Talks Tea and Giving Back worldtea

"coffee and tea enthusiasts who are making the world a more just, sustainable, and peaceful place."

Show more

47 Perfect Coffee Gifts for Coffee Lovers food

"because it tastes delicious but also because it gives back."

Show more

Make 2023 the Year of Quality Sleep... the Quality Edit

"...a rest-promoting tea may be just the adjacent solution your sleep routine needs."

Show more

Amazing Grace VOGUE

"We are constantly launching things together..."

Show more

Encountering Art at Every Bend The New York Times

"The River, a structure of five glass-enclosed indoor spaces linked by covered outdoor walkways"

Show more

We can no longer accept the slavery discount de zeen

"the construction industry is a large contributor to the problem of forced labour worldwide."

Show more

The Construction Supply Chain Is Plagued by Slave Labor FIRST COMPANY

"scrutinizing their supply chains to find and eliminate products reliant on slavery."

Show more

Creating change is as simple as changing the coffee and tea you drink.
Be the force behind ending forced labor.

Click here to begin your partnership with Grace Farms today.

or scan here

grace farms™

giving back 100%
of profits