Caring for your Products

Ceramic

All our ceramics are manufactured to the quality and durability standards required for maximum performance in the hospitality market and are suitable for dishwashers.

- Please follow the dishwasher manufacturer's washing guidelines at all times.
- Excessive rinse temperatures i.e., above 60 degrees Celsius and adding too much detergent may damage the surface glaze of your tableware.
- You should never wash your ceramics and cutlery together and we recommend using a plastic scraper to remove any food residue prior to washing to reduce the risk of metal markings on your ceramics.
- To extend service life, where possible use appropriate racks for storage, making sure handles/spouts do not knock together. Make sure you have an adequate stock of product to effectively manage stock rotation.

Cutlery

All our cutlery can be washed in a dishwasher.

- We recommend storing your cutlery in a dry environment to prevent corrosion.
- Do not leave cutlery to soak prior to washing.
- Cutlery should be washed as soon as possible after use. If left dirty, acid and fat deposits in food could cause corrosion.
- Where possible, cutlery should be washed in specialist cutlery baskets, with the cutlery in an upright position. It is important not to overfill cutlery baskets as this will restrict water flow during the cleaning process.
- Cutlery should be wiped down with a clean dry towel or cutlery polisher immediately after washing. This will ensure any remaining salt residues are removed following washing.
