The Skin Pantry

It started as an organic diet to calm the effects of menopause, but pretty soon Colette Austin decided to purge harsh chemicals from all areas of her life. Finding almost no options in the beauty department lead her to experimenting with scrumptious things—Madagascan vanilla, Burmese mango butter, marula oil—along the general principle that what’s good enough to go in your body, is good enough to go on it. While Austin’s foody skincare line has loyal fans
