This is to confirm that the Shabbatto Scooter “Shabbat mechanism” designed by Movinglife Ltd. of the above address is Kosher certified for use on the Jewish Sabbath and Jewish Holidays:

- (1) A Star-K approved manual will be distributed with the product.
- (2) A Star-K approved sign - stating that the scooter is certified for Shabbat use by the physically challenged only - will be distributed with the product.
- (3) The Shabbat mechanism may be used only for/by individuals that have difficulty walking. A rabbi should be consulted to determine whether an individual meets this standard.
- (4) The Shabbat mechanism must be activated before the onset of Sabbath or Yom Tov.
- (5) In Shabbat mode, the following controls will work with a gamma delay of no less than four seconds: The power button, the throttle, the electric brake, the change of speed button, the screen display, the change of direction button, and the lights.
- (6) In Shabbat mode, activation of the manual brakes will not affect the power of the motor in any way. These brakes will be purely mechanical and will not affect any electric circuits.
- (7) On Shabbat or Yom Tov, the horn may be used only in an emergency.
- (8) On Shabbat, the scooter may be used only in an area that has an Eruv.
- (9) Person(s) operating the scooter must be acquainted with and follow the operating instructions.

This certification is valid until February 28, 2025 and is subject to renewal at that time.

Sincerely,

Rabbi Moshe Heinemann
Rabbinic Administrator
