

whitewaller

Luminaire

LOS ANGELES 2019

LUMINAIRE

Whitewaller recommends: Checking out a new addition – Sollos by Jader Almeida.

For Luminaire's first West Coast showroom, it opened a 15,000-square-foot space designed by MAKE to feature brands like Cassina, Cappellini, Living Divani, and Moroso. In addition to a coveted furniture selection, the Miami-based design retailer also showcases accessories and lighting design pieces by brands like Ingo and David Groppi. "As Los Angeles grows to become a global destination for art and design, we want Luminaire to be an important part of this narrative," said Co-Founder Nasir Kassamali. The West Hollywood space also welcomes guests to see, for the first time in person, Luminaire's new line of kitchens, created collaboratively with the Italian brand Minimal.

- Be on the lookout for upcoming event programming, including talks and exhibitions by designers and architects.
- Don't forget to check out the display by Zanotta, Established and Sons, or Maruni.
- Check out the collection of pieces by designer Jader Almeida for Sollos (exclusively shown at this location), as well as accessories by designers like Omer Arbel, nendo, and Christophe Finkel.