T DENOTES FLOAT TIME

We treat our helium latex balloons with Hi-Float, which prolongs the float time up to 20x longer than what is listed above. We recommend latex balloons for indoor use.

The actual flying time of your balloons will vary depending on the temperature and atmospheric conditions of the space and we cannot guarantee that the balloons will last any specific amount of time.

FAQ

Can we pick up our balloons or do you offer delivery?

Yes we do offer delivery. Large decor items such as, arches, garlands, hoop rings & most columns need to be delivered and set up at the event location due to their size. A 20% delivery/labor fee will be added to the subtotal on orders containing these items. Helium & smaller items can be picked up at our store.

My event is outdoors. How will the balloon do?

Although we use the highest quality balloons available on the market, balloons naturally do not do well in the sun. Temperature, humidity, sunlight, rain, and wind may affect the stability and longevity of your balloons outdoors. Since air & helium expands when it's hot, the balloons tend to pop when in direct sun (especially dark-colored balloons). We always recommend placing your balloons in a shaded area to ensure they look great for your event! Balloons will naturally start to oxidize (look matte) faster when they are in the elements vs indoors.

Wind: we take various precautions to secure your balloons. We double tie knots to weights, use multiple tie points for garlands and use heavy weights for our arch bases. However medium to strong winds can still shift, move, knock over or even pop balloons. If your balloons are near gardens, light fixtures, brick walls, wooden structures, etc and the wind shifts it could cause some of the balloons to pop.

How long will the balloons last?

Air-filled balloons when kept in a temperature-controlled environment can potentially last for several weeks. Overtime balloons naturally lose their shine and begin to shrink in size. For balloons placed outdoors or helium filled balloons, we can not guarantee the balloons will last any amount of time due to the various environmental conditions.

Please note that we will replace any balloons that pop while we are on site during install. Once we leave the site we are unable to offer any replacements or refunds for balloons that pop or you let go.

If you move the balloons to a different location after our team leaves. We cannot be held responsible for any balloons that pop as a result of moving.

What happens at the end of my event?

The majority of the time the client or venue breakdown the balloons. It typically takes 10-20 minutes to pop the balloons. The party doesn't have to stop though- many of our clients like to take as many balloons as they can fit in their car to be enjoyed at home. If you have decor that uses our bases and poles you are responsible for returning the equipment to our store within 48 hours from the event conclusion. We can return at the end of your event to tear down / strike for an additional fee.

How To Order - Booking Process

Let's get the party started!!

Step 1

Inquiry Form

We'll ask you to fill out the inquiry form which gathers all of the info we need to make your balloon order and event install a success! Once you fill out the form, we will most likely request photos of the space you would like us to decorate via email. This will help us gauge which designs we can offer. <https://inflateballoons.com/pages/event-inquiry-form> or visit our website and click on decor

Step 2

Custom Proposal

Once we receive photos of the desired space(s), we will send you a proposal that includes: quote, digital mock-up of the balloon design, potential add-on options, and color palettes to choose from! You also receive access to your customer portal. This portal keeps all the files in one location and allows both of us to stay on the same page as we communicate.

Step 3

Invoice and Contract

After the design and color palette is approved, an invoice and contract will be sent your way! To officially book the date, we require that you pay a 50% non-refundable deposit and electronically sign the contract.

Step 4

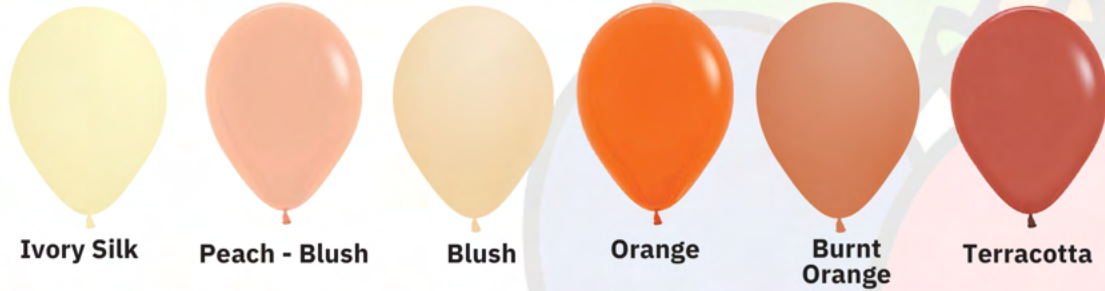

Delivery and Install

A week before your event date we'll send you a message to confirm our delivery timeline. At that time the order cannot be canceled without the receiving the $100 cancelation fee. Our team will arrive at your event with enough time to finish the set up before your event begins. Generally setup take at least one hour but can vary depending on the scope of your event.

Alternatively you can come visit us in person at our store and we will walk you through the booking process. Please bring images of the space with you if possible.

 We highly recommend that all installations be scheduled at a minimum, of 14 days, however, we will accept installation dates as late as 7 days prior to the date of your event. Shorter than 7 days notice may result in a rush fee applied to the order. All notice is subject to availability.
