Welcome to Gaze Burvill

"Creating the finest English outdoor furniture through an honest commitment to design integrity, comfort and craftsmanship."

That, in essence, is our objective and the oak collections presented in this booklet are our expression of it. As an established outdoor specialist with over a quarter century's experience in making furniture and kitchens designed to live outside, Gaze Burvill offers a wide variety of collections for every outdoor space, as well as having full capability to create either custom or fully bespoke designs.

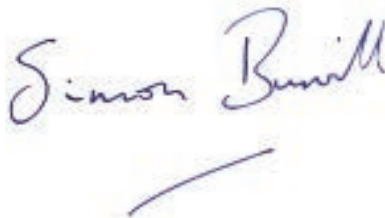

Lodge Farm in the rolling Hampshire countryside has been our home since 2014, and we have established a unique capability here where our design team and state-of-the-art technology work side by side with the timeless skills of our experienced master craftsmen. Every aspect of what we make from initial concept to completed installation is managed from here, and the result is a superb level of care for detail and customer service.

We only use sustainably sourced wood from certified and expertly managed British and European forests. Using steam we shape solid Oak into distinctive, flowing curves that provide outstanding comfort and durability.

The Bowline Collection was developed in collaboration with some of the world's greatest yacht designers, to meet the exacting standards of their industry, using 316 marine-grade stainless steel frames. Each piece from this limited-edition collection offers an unparalleled combination of comfort, elegance and practicality.

We are an easy drive south of London and welcome visitors by appointment, either to visit the workshop, or sample our collections in our Flint Barn Showroom and Courtyard Garden.

Craftsmanship

The skills of our master craftsmen lie at the heart of everything we make. Our workshop team draw on years of experience, brought up to date with leading edge modern technology.

Many of Gaze Burvill's best craftsmen start with us as apprentices, and as they often do, stay on with us to develop a deep understanding of the oak and the specific requirements of our designs.

Each craftsman puts his own mark on his finished piece and takes pride in the knowledge that it will give lasting pleasure to its owner for years to come.

Design Integrity

Design integrity is the yardstick by which Gaze Burvill measures everything it does.

We strive creatively to design our seats to provide optimum comfort and support. Our craftsmen ensure that they are hand built to the highest standard, providing outstanding performance for the long term.

Whether for the curve of a bench, the height and contours of a seat, or simply the dimensions of a table, we do our best to exceed expectations. We spend weeks, sometimes months, perfecting a design, from its overall aesthetic and practical form to its construction, fine detailing and tactile finish.

Sustainability

We use only oak from certified, sustainable woodland sources, with either FSC or PEFC certification. It comes predominantly from France, but also Germany and a growing proportion from England, as it becomes increasingly available.

Our state of the art premises are heated throughout by a modern bio-mass boiler fuelled by the company's production waste, and our electricity is supplemented by solar panels on the workshop roof.

Lodge Farm provides a setting that is fitting for our experienced team of talented designers and craftsmen whilst respecting the ecological standards we strive to achieve.

About our Oak

We only use oak, Quercus robur and Quercus petraea, sourced from certified sustainably managed European forests. Oak is widely recognised as one of the most durable temperate hardwoods. Our ancient ships and timber framed Tudor buildings are testimony to this fact.

The durability of oak comes from its extremely impermeable nature and its high tannin content. Tannin is a natural preservative and fungicide which is abundant in the heartwood of oak. We select trees between 100 and 150 years old as they provide timber which is naturally stable and durable. Over time the wood will develop a silver-grey patina.

An important feature of oak, and one that gives it great appeal to craftsmen, is the figured nature of its grain, in particular the medullary rays, but also 'cat's paw', 'pin knots', colour variations and the patterns around larger knots. These characteristics give each piece its own individuality and, as long as they do not affect its integrity, strength or durability, we have chosen to leave them in.

Once a piece of furniture is finished we expose it to ammonia in a process called 'fuming'. Fuming is an old cabinet maker's technique which darkens the oak, allowing the wood to age gracefully. While we have adopted fuming as the standard finish for all our oak furniture, other finishes are available on request.

Like all living materials oak will react to its environment. 'Checking' (small splits) may occur where the surface of the oak dries faster than its core. These may appear almost as soon as the furniture is put outside, and will open and close depending on the relative humidity.

Through careful attention paid at every stage of our process, from selecting timber from the most stable parts of the tree to properly seasoning it, and using time-tested construction methods, we can ensure that 'checking' is kept to a minimum, so that it will not affect the structure and longevity of our furniture.

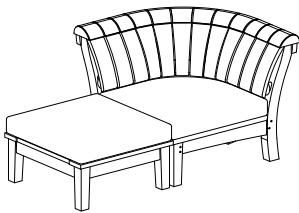

Each Gaze Burvill piece carries the mark of the craftsman who made it.

Levity Tables & Chairs

Designed by Katie Walker, Levity is an elegant juxtaposition of technology and tradition, with beautiful dovetail joints offsetting high tech CNC machined twists. In response to a brief for an arrangement suitable for the rooftop terrace, chairs are light and easily moved, and tables can be combined in several ways. The oak structure offers the best of both worlds; ease of furniture movement blended with a structural integrity set to last against the elements.

The design concept of the chair was built around the interplay of two visually dominant parts: the front legs and armrest; and the back legs and backrest. These two parts are connected together by a stainless steel detail between the armrest and backrest. The table also explores the idea of two interlocking parts, where two arched leg sections come together to form a very strong combined 'T' leg section, with a table top made from UV-resistant and ultra strong Dekton® stone.

The prices below apply to tables with Dekton tops in the 'Group 1' range. For 'Group 2' Dekton tops, add 10%.

Woodland Seat

Gaze Burvill's Woodland Seat, craftsman-made from English Chestnut, has not a single 'straight' component. It showcases a masterful blend of state-of-the-art technology with traditional skills.

Broadwalk explained

Broadwalk modular design

We have designed the Broadwalk Collection so that any number of seats or benches can be combined to produce interesting and original shapes. Please note that Broadwalk Seats can only be combined with other seats, and Broadwalk Benches can only be combined with other benches.

Design Service

If you are interested in combining Broadwalk modular elements in your project, we can help map out the pieces that combine well for the space. Do send us drawings, or even a sketch or photo, with measurements and your requirements, and we can advise on which elements work best together.

Ordering Broadwalk

Broadwalk designs can be ordered in one of two ways:

- 1) All elements are made to be free-standing, allowing elements to be rearranged later, or
- 2) All elements are linked together, and will appear as single continuous item. This is ideal for large designs, such as Tree or Wave Seats.

Armrests

Armrests are optional on all Broadwalk seats, and if required, should be specified with the order. They can be added to either end of a Seat as well as wherever there is a rear leg. Typically, for pieces with arms, allowance should be made for up to an extra 12cm to be added to the length of the piece.

Broadwalk Curves and Radius Explained

The simplest way to understand the Broadwalk range is to think of the item as a slice of a circle. We produce different sizes of circle (radii) which you can take slices from (degrees):

360 degrees = full circle; 90 degrees = quarter circle, and so on.

The bigger the radius, the gentler the curve, and the smaller the slice required to fill a space.

Dimensions

The dimensions given for curving items are measured from tip to tip, as if the item were placed in a box, so that the dimensions would be the length x depth x height of the box. A very curved item (with a smaller radius) will have a smaller footprint than the measurements given.

Broadwalk Dimensions Explained

The code and description for Broadwalk Seats and Benches will give you the dimensions both the front radius and back radius, as well as the degrees of a circle.

For example:

Today we embrace an approach more engaged with the outdoors, to gather friends and family around us, to enjoy preparing and sharing food together, but with the same aesthetic expectation, not to mention requirement for kitchen equipment and accessories, that we have of the kitchen inside the house.

Grill Station

The 'Grill Station' is the latest addition to Gaze Burvill's 'A la Carte' outdoor kitchen collection, and provides exquisite oak cabinetry for a choice of grill or cooking appliance, a small fridge, worktop, and plenty of storage. On lockable wheels, the Grill Station is an adaptable, moveable craftsman-made mini-kitchen – perfect for terraces large or bijou.

A la Carte uses materials that are second to none in performance and quality: sustainably grown and certified prime-grade oak, Dekton® worktops, performance hinges and a wealth of hidden detailing - and an inspiring choice of excellent outdoor-specification appliances.

Custom & Bespoke

Being both 'Designers' and 'Makers' allows us to make custom alterations to individual pieces from our collections with ease, and also produce unique, bespoke, site-specific designs to a brief.

Gaze Burvill has a large diverse collection to suit numerous requirements, however we understand the importance of 'a good fit'. We can adjust dimensions and detailing according to the requests of clients or the requirements of a particular outdoor space. These are 'custom' items.

In addition to this, Gaze Burvill has acquired a unique hands-on experience and understanding of designing and making outdoor furniture for the individual garden or terrace setting. Our established in-house design service, state of the art manufacturing capability and experienced team of craftsmen mean that we welcome a diversity of outdoor projects: special, ambitious and challenging.

Pricing for Bespoke Pieces

Any initial consultation is free of charge. Thereafter, a bespoke project will be progressed in stages, in close dialogue with the customer, with payments required for each of the stages. Generally these are:

Cushions and Covers

Personalisation

From time to time, a piece of Gaze Burvill furniture is more than just a piece of furniture. It might be a gift or memento to celebrate a special event, or memory of someone. It is a wonderful way to mark an occasion.

Carving & Plaques

We can add a beautiful hand-carved inscription or design to almost any of our pieces. We work with skilled carvers who can add something as simple as a name, to a line of poetry, a family crest or personal sign, and also employ digital technologies where that is appropriate. Please enquire about options for personalising your furniture choice.

Leg Height Adjustors, Security Fixings and Anchoring

We advise preventing our furniture from prolonged contact with wet surfaces. To aid this, we fit plastic feet to all our furniture as standard. For particularly large items we fit adjustable feet which also allow for a 2cm height adjustment.

For situations where the ground is uneven we provide two types of stainless steel height adjusters which provide either 5cm or 15cm of height adjustment. These are ideal in situations where the ground will be graduated around a substantial piece of furniture. The adjuster is supplied as standard on Broadwalk Tree Seats and our larger pieces.

Sometimes it is necessary to anchor oak furniture for security reasons. We provide two types of leg anchor, depending on whether the furniture is to be secured into a soft surface, such as a lawn, or a hard surface such as paving. In both instances the furniture is secured using security screws allowing for future access.

Planters

We make a large range of lined standard oak planters to order, and also custom, bespoke ones, with removable panels, wheels, and other details. Please enquire about desired dimensions.

Aftercare

Care and Maintenance

Gaze Burvill furniture is crafted from prime, quarter-sawn, sustainable Oak. Sourced from trees which stood for over a hundred years, with proper care, it can retain its beauty and resilience for years to come.

As a natural material, exposed to the elements, wood will change in appearance. Weathered oak will develop a beautiful silver-grey patina, which will highlight the grain patterns unique to oak, one of many features which makes this beautiful material such a good choice for furniture for outdoors. Basic care required is minimal - a wash with a scrubbing brush and detergent such as sugar soap usually once a year, depending on where it is located.

Brand new oak furniture will leach tannin the first few times it is exposed to rain. Tannin marks on furniture and pale paving will disappear over time, and rinsing surfaces immediately after a rainfall will greatly reduce any temporary marking.

Oak is naturally durable and impermeable and thus will normally repel water, however, we recommend you do not allow oak furniture to rest in standing water or damp soil for prolonged periods. As oak ages, it gradually loses this natural impermeability which protects it from trapped moisture and dirt. Left unmaintained, water and fungi may penetrate through small gaps in the grain, which in the worst cases, can lead to localised rot. After 4-8 years of exposure, depending on its location, we recommend replenishing the natural oils of the oak with a specialist water-repellent penetrating oil. This will give the oak back its impermeability, and allow it to dry off faster and make it easier to keep clean. Gaze Burvill can supply the product for you to apply, or we can do it for you as part of our 'Aftercare Service'.

Bowline

For Bowline, a wash with a solution of pure soap flakes and warm water and a rinse in fresh clean water is all that is normally required for our stainless steel collection and Sunbrella® fabrics. Like all stainless steel in marine locations (salt water atmospheres), cleaning in these areas will need to be more frequent and use of stainless steel cleaners may be required.

Aftercare Service

Signing up to our Aftercare Service for the peace of mind that your furniture is in great condition and looking fabulous for years to come. The team is always ready to offer advice on how to best maintain your furniture. Please do contact us with any questions you have.

Original Designs

Our in-house design team is dedicated to creating new designs, and customizing our existing collections, so that Gaze Burvill customers can be assured of finding the perfect solution for an individual project. Our experienced and specialist craftsmen and designers work from the same location, providing a seamlessly integrated design process.

The Gaze Burvill Collections, unique in their comfort, style and visual impact, have been built up over the years working with some exceptional designers:

- Christian Gaze, a founding partner of Gaze Burvill, designed our initial collections, which include the Court and Cloisters Seats, the May Throne and Meander and Mead, Bailey, Court and Cloisters Tables. He more recently designed the Splash Collection for us and continues to have an important design influence.
- Tim Royall designed the original Broadwalk Seating System as well as the Broadwalk Dining Tables in conjunction with Simon Burvill.
- From the Bowline Collection, the Lounger, Recliner, Foot Stool and Tables are original designs created by Christian Gaze. The High Back Dining Chair, Low Back Dining Chair and Yacht Chair were created by Simon Burvill in collaboration with Christian Gaze from an original concept by Alan Rodford.
- Levis was designed by award-winning designer Katie Walker, to be a chair and table collection for smaller terraces, balconies and rooftops.

We reserve the right to change specifications and prices of our products without notice. All our designs are original copyright works and protected worldwide. We are members of the international organization ACID (Anti Copying in Design). Bowline, and all the names of our oak products are Trade Marks and our designs are Registered Designs.
