

Harvest Time

This month's crop of treats is scarily great

BY AMANDA ROSS

↑ Two architects, a little Asian influence (one hails from Japan), and an eye for quality and detail led to hk + np studio, where jewelry takes on elemental, sculptural form as in the Zigzag ring ($220). Walrus, 3408 Cambie St., 604-874-9770

IN THE CUT
Under the artistic direction of Jason Wu, the new Hugo Boss collection is as timeless as ever in tailoring and silhouette, but fully on trend. To wit: this plaid pattern patchwork Culina coat ($2,395). Dakridge, 650 W. 41st Ave., 604-269-2677

↑ This isn't the Danier you know from the '80s. Well, it actually is, but it's come a long way with this totally updated Alexandra terry sweatshirt with leather sleeves ($249). 1018 Robson St., 604-689-7330

→ The handsome, breathable Charcoal Felt Searcher Boot ($150) by TOMS can dress up or dress down with its flannel lining and sturdy full-grain leather. Toms.ca

↑ If your favourite skinny jeans married your comfiest sweatpants and had a baby, it would be the cute new Serena City Jogger from Mavi (from $98). French terry cloth lends a super-soft, laid-back, slouchy look—all without the chubby cheeks. 1081 Mainland St., 604-669-6284

↑ In partnership with Holt Renfrew's H Project, Gucci designed 20 limited-edition bamboo shopper totes in burgundy python ($2,900), which go on sale October 8. Holt's then donates $500 from the sale of each bag to Unicef's Schools for Africa. Holt Renfrew, 737 Dunsmuir St., 604-681-3121

JOE GRANATO

LULULEMON

→ OF HIS DAY JOB, "I TELL MY mom I make the complex simple and figure out how to bring the wow," says Joe Granato, Lululemon's director of operations, global initiatives. In other words, his team spots problems, then promptly solves them. Come weekends, though, he's more likely to be spotted trouble-free on friends' boats with good food. Granato's passion for the water is most evident in his personal style: an East Coast nautical vibe mixed with midcentury and modern whimsy.

What's your favourite piece of clothing? I'm a blue jeans guy. A good pair of slim, worn in, dark denim jeans—Levi's 511s, A.P.C.—is key.

One item you couldn't throw away? I have a hard time parting with anything gingham or boat shoes. I guess the uptight Wasp in me can't let go.

Your most recent home splurge? Crate & Barrel teak dining table and club chairs for the roof deck—also known as our land yacht because we can't yet afford a real boat.

How about when you travel. What are the must-takes? An eye mask for light blocking, Skoah hydrating mask, a copy of the latest Harvard Business Review.

Your favourite gift of late? A Sage humidor for my cigars when fly-fishing.

Do you ever leave the house wearing yoga pants? Yes, of course. When practising yoga.
