

Grooming

The best men's moisturisers to give dull skin an instant lift – tried and tested by GQ's editors

By Adrian Clark

18 June 2023

The best men's moisturisers are made to be the foundation of your grooming arsenal. There's arguably no more important addition you can make to your bathroom cabinet, whether you're looking for brighter skin, to lessen the signs of ageing or simply feel your best when you head out to work in the morning. A good moisturiser is easy to apply, quick to absorb and delivers plenty in the way of long-lasting results. Better still, you don't need to spend much to get yourself a quality moisturiser.

Here at GQ, we've been testing men's moisturisers long before every Premier League sensation and Hollywood legend with an age-defying hairline took to shilling them in return for a (presumably) generous fee. So there's no place to trust when you're looking to invest in a pick-me-up for what we're sure is your already glowing visage. From grooming stalwarts such as Kiehl's and Clarins to more hypey upstarts like Aesop and The Ordinary, we've tried out a multitude of moisturisers across all manner of price points to make sure you've got plenty to choose from below. So whatever your budget or skincare needs, GQ has you sorted with its best moisturisers for men.

The Natural Africa Resurrection Moisturiser

- Skin type: Suitable for all
- Benefits: Revives and protects skin by optimising hydration levels
- Powered by: Resurrection plant, aloe ferox, mongongo, baobab and African mahogany
- Texture: Lightweight cream

A pioneering brand formulated with powerful medicinal plants, which are sustainably-sourced in Sub-Saharan Africa, The Natural Africa's capsule of four botanical, gender-free, skincare essentials have been designed to protect, nourish and renew. Created by a team of pharmaceutical and dermatological specialists, the range's hero moisturiser is powered with the same compounds that protect the resurrection plant (which can exist for years without a single drop of water) from the harshest of conditions. Additionally, the vegan and organic moisturiser is enriched with healing fauna natural oils, vitamins, antioxidants and omegas, including aloe ferox, mongongo, baobab and African mahogany; specialists in bringing life to lacklustre skin.

£95 AT THE NATURAL AFRICA