Extra Bold armchair Kvadrat cover

New Extra Bold armchair 100% stretch wool by Big-Game developed in collaboration with Kvadrat Febrik.

Thanks to Kvadrat Febrik's know-how and technical prowess, the new Extra Bold armchair is covered with a 100% wool knitted seamless tube that is elastic enough to fit all its curves.

The Extra Bold armchair from Big-Game is as radical as it is comfortable.

Taking up the constructive principles of the Bold range, it combines two generously inflated tubes and, contrary to what it suggests, offers surprising comfort.

Like the chair, the stool and the bench before it, the Extra Bold armchair alternates taut, soft curves that act successively as seat, back and armrest.

It imposes a strong sculptural dimension that contrasts with the sensation of extreme comfort experienced once seated.

The diameter of its tube, a very thick layer of injected foam and several technical details buried in the depth of the seat make it possible to sit on its «tube» without experiencing any discomfort. An invisible assembly system allows the seat and backrest to be flush with each other, so that they barely seem to brush against each other to come together.

Bold collection

Made up of two tubular parts in metal embedded in each other, the Bold products are updated versions of the tradition of a bended seats in tubular steel. Inflated with a thin polyurethane foam, the line drawn by the Bold successfully plays the role of foot, seat or back and gives it an amazing level of comfort. With a single stroke, in the manner of the Osvaldo Cavandoli Linea, and thickened similarly to the font which is made bold, the Bold collection succeeds in doing away with the seat and back. Covered with a removable textile coating, the Bold chair can change colour.

Chantico oil lamp

A xenomorphic egg or an unidentified mechanical element, the Chantico oil lamp by Jean-Baptiste Fastrez revisits the typology by anchoring it in Aztec mythology through its name and in a contemporary mythology in the making through its design. Goddess of the hearth and the furnace in Aztec mythology, Chantico is also the goddess of volcanic and terrestrial fire, and is the wife of Xiuhtecuhtli, the god of fire.

Allpa mini vase

Allpa mini is like a bouquet of flowers. Four connected vases are shaped into a “vase bouquet” that is ready to hold a unique and extravagant flower composition. The name Allpa comes from Inca mythology and is the name of a goddess of fertility, with multiple breasts.

Zodiac mirrors

The Zodiac mirror by Jean-Baptiste Fastrez plays with its mirror surface to complete the « sausage » it is made of.

Seemingly inflated and made of ultra glossy ceramic to remind the inflatable boat it bears the name, the Zodiac mirror frame looks full thanks to a symmetrical mirror image of half a ring into the mirror.

OLO

3 lighting positions table lamp

Small, compact, fitted with 2 Led bulbs, OLO can be adapted to all types of situations and fits in anywhere.

At ease beside the bed, on the ground, on a table, in a library or on a shelf, three lighting positions allow it to be moved backwards and forwards to light horizontally, vertically and at 45 degrees and be an ideal solution to create diffused atmospheric lighting or, on the contrary, directed beam angle lighting to emphasise the most confined and specific areas.

A genuine tool with a resolutely technical design, OLO however has an affable and benevolent character. A reference at the same time to certain well-known personages in the animated film world, to military exploration objects or again to a Super 8 camera, in one dense and positive design, it focuses multiple origins in which everyone can project their own references, their own history.

At a time when the majority of so-called technical lamps are made of plastic, OLO choose to commit itself to ceramics. Using acquired techniques and ancestral know-how, it establishes its modernity in a manufacturing process and a formal and resolutely contemporary vocabulary.

Ingres collection

Designed by Atelier Baptiste et Jaïna, the Ingres collection merges free random forms with an anthropomorphic character with elementary geometric shapes. Obtained by pressure on plaster volumes contained in elastic balloons, these ultra-drawn forms are nevertheless the result of a process of implementation that is both precise and completely random.

Moustache

Lanna

Thanks to the new technologies of 3D scanning and CNC milling, Lanna, which takes its name from an ancient Asian kingdom, is a replica of a precious antique found in Northern Thailand. A change of scale made possible by the use of 3D modelling and sculpting tools transforms its use by shifting this replica from its original typology to another.

With no known author and difficult to date, its design is intriguing because of its regular and stylised geometry and reminds one of Art Deco.

Transposed to this new scale, it still presents the details offered by the original material and the gestures of its manufacture. Conceived as a hybrid, it is both sculpture and furniture, industrial and artisanal. It is an extension of the Replica #1 and #2, also made from anonymous objects with remarkable ornamental and narrative qualities. Here, the symbolism of the deer remains mysterious. This animal, represented in abundance by almost all cultures in the world but never domesticated, constitutes a mythological and poetic figure that allows each of us to project a story onto it.

Lanna will not give us any information about her past, but her quietness and her benevolent look make her presence a gentle and familiar company.
