Details

Target Description	Kv channel-interacting protein 1, Potassium Voltage-Gated Channel Interacting Protein 1 or Kchip1 is a member of the family of voltage-gated potassium (Kv) channel-interacting proteins (KCNIPs), which belongs to the recoverin or neuronal calcium sensor (NCS) family branch of the EF-hand superfamily. Kchip1 associates with Kv4 alpha subunits to form native Kv4 channel complexes. Kchip1 is expressed in the brain and detected in the hippocampus and the dentate gyrus. Diseases associated with KCNIP1 include diastolic hypertension, attention deficit-hyperactivity disorder.
Specificity	No cross-reactivity against rat KChIPs 2,3
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested by western blot on rat whole brain lysate and confirmed to stain the expected molecular weight band.
