Details

Target Description	Voltage-dependent L-type calcium channel subunit beta-1 or Cav β1 is encoded by the gene CACNB1. Cavβ1 is a cytoplasmic subunit of L type voltage-sensitive calcium channels. These channels facilitate entry of calcium ions into excitable cells and are involved in a variety of calcium dependent processes, including neurotransmitter release, muscle contraction, and gene expression. Cavβ1 serves to regulate the activity of L-type calcium channels. Cavβ1 expressed in brain, heart, spleen, central nervous system and neuroblastoma cells. Diseases associated with CACNB1 include Malignant Hyperthermia and epileptic encephalopathy.
Specificity	Does not cross-react with Cavβ2, Cavβ3, Cavβ4
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested by western blot on rat whole brain lysate and confirmed to stain the expected molecular weight band.
