Details

Target Description	Short transient receptor potential channel 5 or TrpC5 is encoded by the gene TRPC5. TrpC5 belongs to the transient receptor family, a group of membrane bound ion channels that have a relatively non-selective permeability to cations, including sodium, calcium and magnesium. Apparent roles for Trpc5 include the regulation of neurite outgrowth. TrpC5 is found in the brain, developing fetal brain, CNS, and kidney. To date, TrpC5 functions in partnership with up to 60 proteins, including other TrpC members, IP3 receptors, NCS-1 and caveolin. Diseases associated with TrpC5 include Hypertrophic Pyloric Stenosis and Pyloric Stenosis
Specificity	No cross-reactivity reported
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested on cells overexpressing target protein and confirmed to give the expected staining pattern.
