Details

Target Description	Voltage-dependent L-type calcium channel subunit alpha-1D, or Cav1.3 calcium channel is a calcium channel encoded by the gene CACNA1D. It is a member of the L type voltage dependent calcium channel family. These calcium channels mediate the influx of calcium ions into a cell upon membrane polarization. Cav1.3 is expressed primarily in the membrane of the heart, brain (cerebral cortex, hippocampus, basal ganglia and thalamus), and pancreatic islets. Calcium channels are involved in many cell processes including muscle contraction, neurotransmitter release, gene expression, cell division and cell death. Diseases associated with Cav1.3 include Primary Aldosteronism, Seizures, Sinoatrial Node Dysfunction and Deafness.
Specificity	No cross-reactivity against Cav1.2
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested by western blot on rat whole brain lysate and confirmed to stain the expected molecular weight band.
