Details

Target Description	HCN4 is a member of the hyperpolarization-activated cyclic nucleotide gated channel family, also known as pacemaker channels. This family has a role in rhythmic activity of the heart and firing neurons. HCN channels are made up of four subunits, HCN1-4 and can be formed in multiple combinations. HCN4 is found in the cell membrane as a multi pass membrane protein in the sino-atrial node of the heart. This protein is highly expressed in neurons in the thalamus and other brain regions and testis. Mutations in HCN4 have been found in several types of sinus bradycardia.
Specificity	No cross-reactivity against other HCN's
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested by western blot on rat whole brain lysate and confirmed to stain the expected molecular weight band.
