Details

Target Description	Voltage-dependent anion-selective channel protein 1 or Outer Mitochondrial Membrane Protein Porin 1 is encoded by the gene VDAC1 and belongs to the mitochondrial porin family. VDAC1 is a voltage-dependent anion channel protein that is a major component of the outer mitochondrial membrane and is also found on the plasma membrane of cells. VDAC1 can act as a scaffold for many proteins and allows for the passage of ions and metabolites, including ATP, through interactions within the pore. VDAC1 in the plasma membrane plays a role in the regulation of cell volume and apoptosis. VDAC1 is expressed in several tissues including heart, brain, liver and skeletal muscle. Diseases associated with VDAC1 include Influenza and Typhoid Fever.
Specificity	Does not cross-react with VDAC2 or VDAC3 (based on KO validation results)
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested by western blot on rat whole brain lysate and confirmed to stain the expected molecular weight band.
