Details

Target Description	Potassium voltage-gated channel subfamily D member 2 or Kv4.2 potassium channel subunit is encoded by the gene KCND2. Kv4.2 is an alpha subunit of the voltage-gated potassium channel (Shal) family and mediates transmembrane potassium transport in excitable membranes. Kv4.2 is an integral membrane protein that combines to form tetramers. Kv4.2 is detected in the heart and brain. In brain it is found at the cell junction, synapse, postsynaptic cell membrane. Diseases associated with this gene include Cycloplegia and early myoclonic encephalopathy.
Specificity	Does not cross-react with Kv4.3 (based on KO validation results)
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested by western blot on rat whole brain lysate and confirmed to stain the expected molecular weight band.
