Details

Target Description	Potassium voltage-gated channel subfamily C member 2 or Kv3.2 potassium channel, is a member of the potassium channel, voltage-gated, shaker-related subfamily and the Shaw subfamily (the family includes 4 members Kv3.1-Kv3.4). Kv3.2 is primarily expressed in brain and found in the cortex and hippocampus. It has also been detected in the thalamus and caudate nucleus. Kv3.2 is a membrane protein that mediates the voltage-dependent potassium ion permeability of excitable membranes. Diseases associated with KCNC2 include Spinocerebellar Ataxia 13 and Episodic Ataxia, Type 2
Specificity	No cross-reactivity reported
Purification Method	Produced by in vitro bioreactor culture of hybridoma line followed by Protein A affinity chromatography and conjugation of purified mAb. Purified mAbs are >90% specific antibody.
Quality Control Tests	Each new lot of antibody is quality control tested by western blot on rat whole brain lysate and confirmed to stain the expected molecular weight band.
