VISION

“THE NEED TO TRANSLATE IDEAS INTO CONCRETE PRODUCTS”

MISSION

“PROMOTING EMERGING FASHION DESIGNERS AND TRANSFORMING THEM INTO ENTREPRENEURS IN SIX MONTHS TIME”

Founded in 2019, Dadsit is a supporting platform for emerging designers. Created by three graduated students of fashion design and technology, Dadsit wants to bring light upon all the collections made during years of the students' hard work. Everything started with an instagram account, a white suit and their friends collections. Day by day, the digital archive took shape. Today, Dadsit creates a market for the unfiltered creations born for scholastic purposes but worthfull of much more.

The white suit worn by the model becomes the neutral vehicle by which the designers can show to the world their creations. His face and body cannot overshadow or modify the garments which instead need to be the core and main focus in every picture. The model stands on a plexiglas cube, being the stage of every designers, the window of their creations and the platform that gives them the right space and visibility.

SERVICES

PR and showroom

Through our network we work directly with stylists, magazines, photographers and art director.

We create bridge with them, with the goal to boosts your collection and show it, working on shoo-tings, campains, celebrities and projects.

Technical services

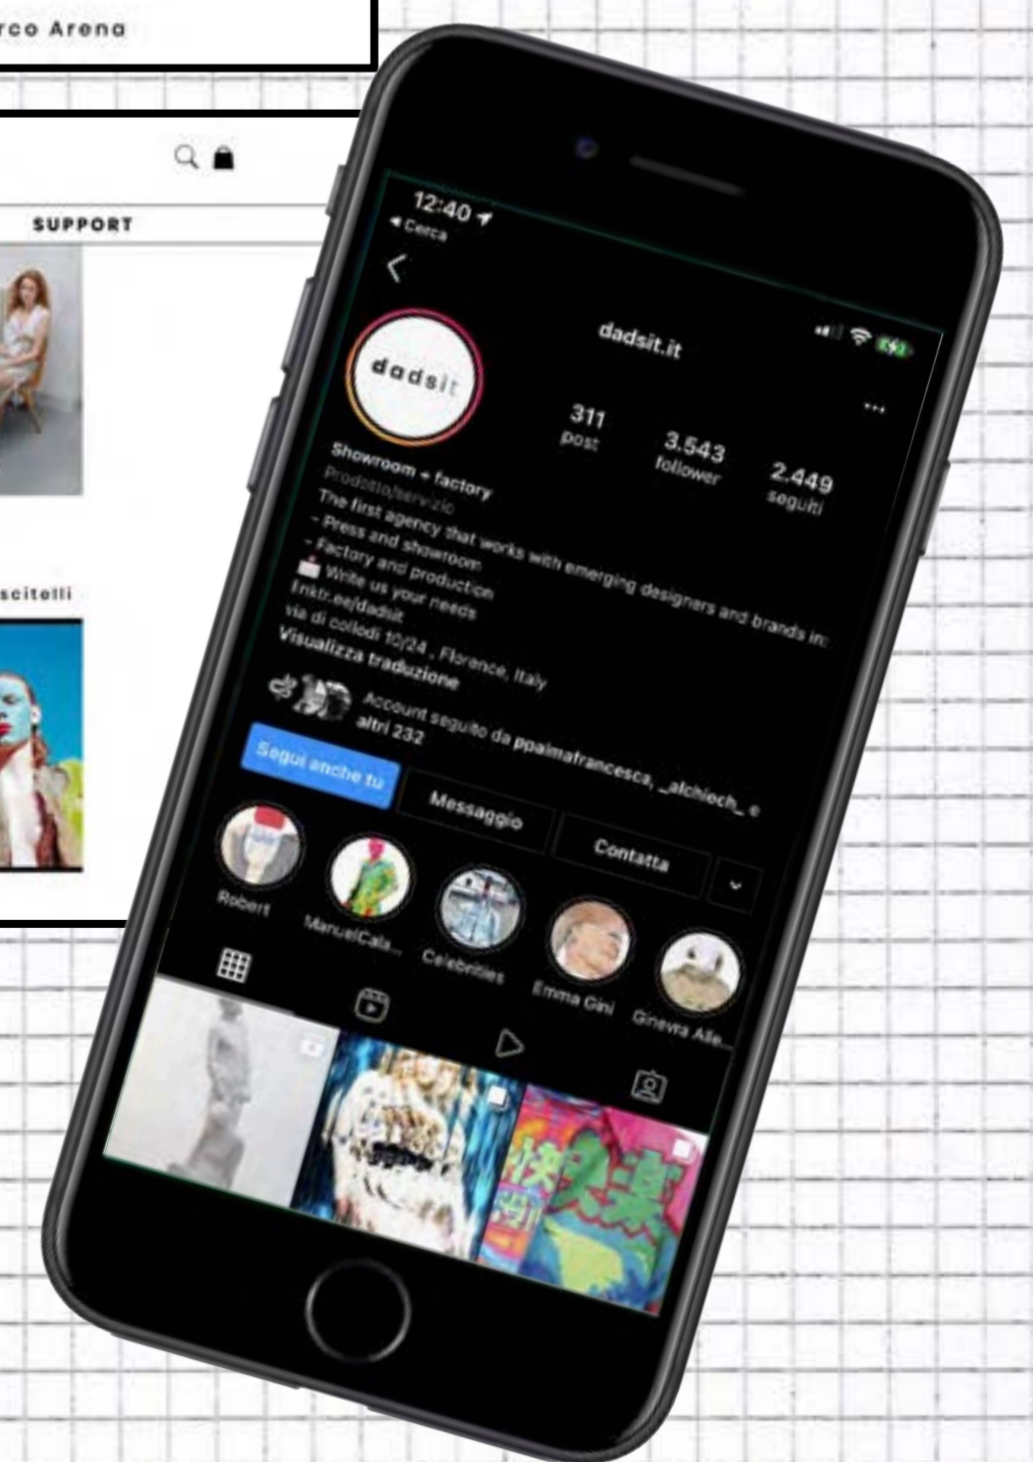

Working directly with designers and brands our goal is to build up your collection.

From pattern making, prototyping, sawing, fabric research and small quantities production, all with Made in Italy quality DNA, we want to fill the gap between designers and market, taking off from you the steps in between.

Store

Last but not the least of our goal is to give you the possibility to create your own market, selling your pieces through our platform.

We're building the e-commerce to provide you this opportunity, creating a new way to perceive young and talented designers' creation.
