

Environmental policy

As Olimpias Group s.r.l. we keep as qualifying statement in our own Code of Ethics the complete respect of the surrounding environment, therefore, in order to realize this commitment, we adopted a sustainability philosophy, a few guidelines reflecting our reference values:

- reaching economical and property targets through loyal and transparent competition;
- keeping high social and company safety standards for our employees, cooperators and suppliers;
- the ability of characterize ourselves more and more as a vanguardist company in improving environmental performances and in containing the impact of our productive activities on the planet, saving it for our future generations.

With this purpose we defined an our own Environmental Management System by adopting a proper organizational structure totally dedicated to it.

We set a system based on procedures, management tools and controlling activities to allow our values to be spread and realized for our Group.

By using our new Environmental Management System we aim to:

- research and apply proper standards to qualify our products as appropriate for our customers' sustainability needs, sometimes adopting voluntary and even more restricting standards than the local laws;
- banish the presence of dangerous chemical substances into raw materials during processes, removing them from the atmosphere and from wastewaters;
- limit and reduce water and energy consumption;
- reduce raw material consumption by increasing the ones coming from recycling cycle;
- find and realize the best practices possible about waste materials, in order to reduce their production;
- minimize the impact of potential emergency situations;

We do committ to promote the information and environmental education at every level in our company and in each Group's branch, not depending from their role inside the company, also with the aim to move in that direction the singular behaviours ou our employees, cooperators and suppliers.

Also we do believe involving all our supplier chain is essential, goal we try to reach by identifying our reference standards and control actions (as environmental audit, products analysis, etc.) coordinated by our Holding Company and improved by all Group's branches.

In order to realize the current policy, it is released to the employees and stakeholders in this company, and it will be revised periodically in order to always update it, following group strategy, general organizational inspections and the progress of art, science and technique.
