Port Coffee Table

Jenkins & Uhnger

For their Port Coffee Tables, Oslo-based design duo Jenkins & Uhnger were inspired by the visual lightness and structural durability of Japan's Shinto Temples. Their reinterpretation features various delicate design elements such as gently chamfered edges that add a sense of understated elegance.

There are also plenty of practical touches, such as robust, cylindrical legs and a discreet shelf for optimising storage. It's a particularly versatile piece that comes in a trio of understated wooden colourways to suit any living space.

Made in China.
