Solas range

Matthew Hilton

The Solas range is a contemporary outdoor furniture range made from tubular Stainless Steel that is cold formed and with machined and press formed Teak slatting.

The range takes inspired from the nautical world, both teak and stainless steel are heavily used in maritime instruments and sailing boats due to both having such durable properties. Whilst also being an aesthetically beautiful combination of colours and finishes.

Solas stands for Safety Of Life At Sea, a term used as an international maritime treaty.

Made in Thailand.
