Portofino Blog Post

"I remember one summer when I spent six weeks in this fabulous fishing village. We had an apartment over a Gelato shop and a nearby bakery. Every morning at 4am, the scent of freshly baked bread wafted through my windows. Between the gelato, the fresh bread, and the wonderful pasta, we must have gained at least 2-3 kilos!

Every evening we went to the neighboring town of Santa Margherita, where our friend Peppo Benini owned the hottest nightclub in the area. We danced our hearts out til dawn. "
