

SCHOOL'S OUT WASHINGTON PRIVACY STATEMENT

School's Out Washington is committed to safeguarding contributor privacy. We operate under the following set of privacy principles:

The only information SOWA obtains about on-line contributors or individual visitors to its Web site is that which is supplied voluntarily by contributors or visitors.

In cases when SOWA may need personal information to provide visitors with customized content or to inform them about new features or services, visitors are explicitly asked for that information.

Personally identifiable information provided by visitors (e.g., name, e-mail or home address, etc.) will not be disclosed to any other party. If, at any time, SOWA believes it would be to the benefit of site visitors and contributors to share information with other organizations, visitors will be explicitly asked for permission to do so.

School's Out Washington's website is not designed for use by children nor does the Web site seek to collect information on children who may visit the site.

SOWA employs strict security measures to safeguard all on-line financial transactions: A secure server hosts files and forms that are used to complete transactions. Personal contributor information is stored in a secure database and any data sent to third parties to complete a transaction are encrypted using Secure Socket Layer (SSL) technology. To ensure the privacy of contributors, SOWA does not store credit card information.

Additional details on our information gathering, use, and privacy practices are provided below.

General Information About All Users

To determine the number of visitors to our site and the most- and least-visited pages on the site, SOWA gathers statistical information on a monthly basis to understand how the public is using the site. These statistical reports do not contain any personal information on visitors to the site.

Personal Information About You

We may ask you for such personal information as your e-mail address so that we can provide news and information that you have elected to receive. Information collected SOWA is not shared with any other party. SOWA may use this information, however, to notify you by e-mail of additions to the Web site, coming events, or to convey other important information.

Corrections to Your Information

You may notify SOWA of changes in your personal information (e.g., mailing address, e-mail address, etc.) by the following means:

- Send an e-mail to us at info@schoolsoutwashington.org indicating the changes in your contact information.
- Call SOWA at 206.323.2396
- Write to:
School's Out Washington
801 23rd Avenue South, Suite A

Surveys

Our on-line survey asks for demographic information about visitors to the SOWA Web site. SOWA tracks responses in order to improve your experience on the site. Visitors who complete the survey are not required to identify themselves or provide contact information.

External Links

In order to provide visitors with convenient access to additional information, SOWA offers links to various third-party Web sites. SOWA exercises no authority over linked sites, each of which maintains independent privacy and data collection policies and procedures. SOWA assumes no responsibility or liability for these independent Web sites.

E-mail Updates

Recipients of e-mail communications may elect to remove themselves from mailing lists by following the directions provided at the bottom of each e-mail.

If these directions are unclear, visitors may also use the following means to unsubscribe from SOWA e-mail updates:
