SMITH’S VARIETY
Birmingham, Alabama
From classic candy by the pound to a jaw-dropping array of wrapping paper and even whoopee cushions, it’s all here (and then some) at this throwback gem.

ALEX RASKIN ANTIQUES
Savannah, Georgia
Walking through this suspended-in-time, stuffed-to-the-gills mansion is a bit like visiting Miss Havisham of Great Expectations, except that here the dusty tramp art and Biedermeier chairs are for sale.

BOXWOODS
Buckhead, Georgia
Cut flowers, choice perennials, and unusual annuals, plus all the pretty things to put them in or on, make Boxwoods an irresistible draw for people who love the outside of their homes as much as the inside.

CAPITOL
Charlotte, North Carolina
Laura Vinroot Poole is one of the South’s best importers of world culture via her Charlotte atelier, which showcases couture confections from the likes of Giambattista Valli and Valentino next to jewelry from India’s Gem Palace.

CROGHAN’S JEWEL BOX
Charleston, South Carolina
History and tradition are alive and well three generations after the opening of this genteel, family-run jewelry shop on King Street, where everything from diamond rings to estate silver is on glittering display.

CIRCLE SEVEN
Madison, Mississippi
Smack in the middle of hunt country, this sportsman’s paradise stocks every item necessary for a day in the field, but the guns and knives are the real draw.

SID MASHBURN
Atlanta, Georgia
Eight years ago Sid Mashburn brought his unique Southern preppster-mets-Italian modernist look to the South, inspiring a new generation of men’s shops in the process.

BUNGALOW
Atlanta, Georgia
If you’re in the market for absolutely anything new for your home, look no further than this welcoming spot stocked with a wonderfully edited mix of furniture, lighting, accessories, and art.

ARZBERGER STATIONERS
Charlotte, North Carolina
Southerners know the value of proper paper correspondence, and Arzberger Stationers’ creative director, Elizabeth Edwards, knows how to help clients stay in touch in style.

RED TRUCK BAKERY
Warrenton, Virginia
Try the bourbon cake, the double chocolate moonshine cake, Alma Hackney’s rum cake...they’re all fantastic, and they’re all made with love at this rural Virginia landmark.
