FIRE + ICE

Add warmth to a cool diamond with red, pink, or yellow stones. A few guidelines to go by: Regal rubies are durable yet often pricey since high-quality specimens are rare. Pretty pink tourmalines are less expensive but typically have more visible flaws. And if you love yellow, look for diamonds or sapphires in the hue—both are strong enough for daily wear.

Colored diamonds—like these yellow ones—are called fancy because they fall outside the normal range of shades. They vary in saturation, with vivid and intense being the most sought after.
