

Important:

The software interface that is used to communicate with, setup, configure and download data from the Envoy 8X is the Weather Data Transfer Utility for Envoy8X software CD included in this package.

The WeatherLink software that comes with the WeatherLink data logger should not be used to setup, configure and download data from the Envoy 8x. It should be only used to import data from the DTU software and to plot and graph this imported data.

Do not attempt to use WeatherLink to communicate with the Envoy8X. The Weather Data Transfer Utility for Envoy8X software must be used to communicate with the Envoy 8X.
