BULK DYE AND SUBLIMATION MANUFACTURING

BULK-DYE

Our bulk-dye offering presents 3 colour options of black, navy and red. When selecting a bulk-dye garment 3 types of logo embellishment are available;

EMBROIDERY

Embroidery is the longest lasting embellishment method and provides a quality finish to garments. Whilst providing a nice finish on outer layers (e.g. jackets), embroidery is not ideal for larger back logos and chest logos applied on a thin/breathable fabric.

SCREEN PRINT

Screen printing is the most common method of textile printing, as it can be printed on almost all fabric types and provides long lasting prints with an accurate colour reproduction. Due to the set-up fees for each individual colour used, screen printing is recommended for medium to large volume orders.

HEAT TRANSFER

Heat transfer prints are pressed onto garments via high-temperature and heavy pressure. With less durability than screen print or embroidery, we strongly recommend cold machine wash only.

SUBLIMATION

Sublimation printing uses ink or dye to transfer your artwork into your desired garment. Sometimes referred to as "dye-sublimation printing," this process has many unique elements to it which allow you to have full creative freedom when customising your apparel. Traditionally this process is the most popular in the industry as it is so versatile allowing you to receive the exact colour and design you desire.

PERFORM X FABRIC TECHNICAL INFORMATION

HI~FIL+

Utilising high filament technology, 2XU has engineered a performance fabric to maximise moisture management. Cross-channeled yarns wick vapour from the inner to outer layers in order to keep the wearer as dry and as comfortable as possible, while a mesh structure promises breathability. HI FIL+ includes Polygiene® odour control technology ensuring you stay fresh and odour free. Wear more, wash less and reduce your environmental footprint.

VAPOR

A lightweight, high-gauge woven fabric with a 4-way mechanical stretch. A solution that blocks out wind while remaining light and packable. High-filament yarns wick moisture away from the body to keep the wearer comfortable, dry and with zero cling to the body.

Polygiene is the world's leading permanent Anti-Bacterial treatment. As the most respected and customer recognised permanent Anti-Bacterial treatment on the market, Polygiene prevents the growth of odour-causing bacteria and fungi at the source, permanently. Only active on the textile, it does not interfere with the skins natural bacterial flora and does not wash out, as the technology is bound and permanently integrated into the fabric. Polygiene means no more washing after every wear.

ACTIVE LINER

For extreme moisture control through hot conditions, 2XU's ACTIVE LINING is built with polyester filament yarns to keep the wearer dry and chafe-free.

ICEX

Cooling technology that actively lowers skin temperature upon contact with skin. Engineered from high filament yarns, this impressive fabric keeps you cool in the heat and wicks moisture to keep you dry. Excellent stretch and recovery memory to move with the body.
