

NEXSMART GAS DETECTOR

The product is marked with the crossed over trash bin symbol. This is because the product is an electric and electronic equipment, which may not be disposed with regular household waste, when it's discarded. The reason is that it contains dangerous substances, which can be a hazard for the environment and people's health. Instead, the product shall be submitted to the municipal / public garbage collection system, for example the municipal / public recycling sites.

