A Better WORLD WITH EVERY BITE!

Since 1937, our family has been growing wholesome, great-tasting rice while tending to soil, air, water, and wildlife as carefully as our crops. Some people say we're a bit unconventional. But doing things our way—sustainably at every step—allows us to make better food for the table while leaving a better world for the next generation.

That's why, on our farms, we:

SAY NO

WASTE CERTIFICATION

BUILD SOIL HEALTH

POWER & OFFSET
OUR MANUFACTURING

It's all part of our promise to protect and improve the planet. So when you choose Lundberg, you can feel confident that you're bettering the world with every bite!

ORGANIC & SUSTAINABLE

We are committed, first and foremost, to growing organic rice and quinoa. However, we are also passionate about making sure all families have access to healthy foods that are made with Mother Nature in mind, even when they don't bear the organic seal. All of our rice—whether organic or not—is grown using sustainable farming practices. So no matter which Lundberg product you choose, you can feel confident it's made in partnership with nature!

RECYCLABLE PACKAGING

We've always treated the land like a member of the family. Now, we're doubling down on sustainability. We've partnered with our friends at TerraCycle to make sure our flexible packaging and food wrappers can skip the landfill for a second life as durable plastic goods, like park benches. It's all part of our promise to leave the land better than we found it so we can keep growing together for generations to come!

HERE'S SOMETHING Wild

8 OZ. RICE

Wild rice is actually a marsh grass seed, but that's not the only thing that makes this variety unique! Originally grown in the lakes and rivers of Canada and Minnesota, wild rice springs up to six feet tall through two feet of water—about twice the height and depth of other varieties. This is great news for organic farmers like us since water is our best weapon against grass weeds. We grow wild rice in Northern California's Cascade Range and California Delta, where mountain temperatures and the bay breeze replicate the cool climate of Canada and Minnesota. Wild, huh?

ORGANIC WILD RICE – 8 OZ.

Thai Hom Mali Rice is unique to Thailand and cannot be grown in California's climate. So we partner with farmers from small, remote communities in Thailand to offer Fair Trade premium organic rice and help expand organic farming to global communities. Fair Trade not only invests in educational and health-related services, but also offers training of organic and sustainable farming methods that improve yields and protect the natural environment. This enhances farmers' livelihoods in an equitable and environmentally friendly manner that fits with our founding promise to leave the land better than we found it.

QUINOA FROM THE Pacific Coast

1 LB. QUINOA

At Lundberg Family Farms, we lead with a long view of family, food, and organic farming. Some 75 years after we started farming rice, quinoa gained a foothold in American pantries and retailers looked to us to connect them with domestic growers. We saw the effort as consistent with our desire to reduce food miles, and crop diversity has always been key to cultivating a resilient food system. So, with help from local organic farmers, we're proud to grow quinoa in the temperate climate and nutrient-rich soil of the Pacific Coast!

ORGANIC TRI-COLOR BLEND QUINOA – 1 LB.

WHAT ABOUT Sprouted?

1 LB. SPROUTED RICE

Sprouted grains are essentially whole grains on the verge of germinating, or “sprouting.” As the seed transforms into a new plant, the starch inside is used as fuel to break through the grain’s outer shell and produce a shoot. Since sprouted grains are lower in starch, they have higher proportions of other nutrients, like protein, vitamins, and minerals. Plus, they cook in 30 minutes for a shortcut to delicious—and nutritious!

ORGANIC SPROUTED BROWN BASMATI RICE – 1 LB.

Sprouted & Delicious

This germinated whole grain brings so much to the table to satisfy more than just your taste buds. Its pleasant aroma, subtle flavor, and long, thin grains make it a natural fit for curry, stir-fry, and pilaf recipes. Plus, it cooks in 30 minutes!

FROM THAILAND TO Your Table

Thai Hom Mali Rice and Khao Dum Rice are unique to Thailand and cannot be grown in California's climate. So we partner with farmers from small, remote communities in Thailand to offer Fair Trade premium organic rice and help expand organic farming to global communities. Fair Trade not only invests in educational and health-related services, but also offers training of organic and sustainable farming methods that improve yields and protect the natural environment. This enhances farmers' livelihoods in an equitable and environmentally friendly manner that fits with our founding promise to leave the land better than we found it.
