4-in-1 Discover & Play Musical Walker | deltachildren.com | $70

This has been a life-saver for me. From the moment my little one could hold her head up, she was using this grow-with-me baby seat. I was happy to discover it transforms into a rocker which relaxed her while I “multi-tasked” around the kitchen. You can also adjust the height as Baby grows! This has kept my baby entertained as she activated a variety of sounds with her feet using the musical foot pedal. Once she reached about 8 months, she figured out how to use the 360-Degree Activity Center Mode, and at 10 months, she was making her way around the kitchen. Watching her go through her milestones in this walker is amazing. One of my favorite times was when she began spin herself around, interacting with one activity to the next. This play center has all kinds of toys, sounds and little gadgets to entertain Baby for awhile! Not to mention, I used this for when she started solids around 5 months old. I removed the toy insert and voilà, there is a tray for snacks or feeding! Wipe it clean and it’s back to playtime. Note: the only downside is once she figured out the toy insert isn’t attached, she threw it to the floor quite a few times. Tip: keep a close eye on your little one and knock the habit sooner than later. (Yes, I’m speaking from experience). This is perfect for babies weighing up to 25 pounds and up to 30 inches.
