That means it meets or exceeds some of the strictest chemical emission standards. You'll never have to worry about what your baby is exposed to while sleeping.

No nursery is complete without a changing station. Whether you're using a changing table or the surface of a dresser, you'll need this changing pad with the cover to keep your baby safe and comfortable during diaper changes. Available in either grey or pink, the changing pad is contoured, easy to clean, and features a safety strap that will help your baby stay secure. The included cover is machine-washable, water-resistant, and hypoallergenic.
