

Simple appearance with multiple color options

Walmart's Delta Children Epic 3 Drawer Dresser comes in many different color options: White, black, gray, or walnut espresso models cost $179, while brown and warm brown models are priced at $209.99. It has bronze hardware, safety stops on the drawers, and is made out of wood composite. This piece has a simplistic and modern appeal, given its clean lines and tapered legs. This means that it could fit well in a wide variety of homes, especially considering its numerous color options.

With over 600 reviews, this dresser has a 4.4-star rating. While some complained about chemical smells and shallow drawers, others said it was easy to assemble and the quality was better than expected. Although this piece is made for children's bedrooms, many agreed it could be used for several other things. For instance, some reviewers said they work great as oversized nightstands.
