Here's Exactly What You Should Buy on Prime Day if You're Pregnant or Have a Baby

Stroller

Chances are, one of the most expensive items on your baby registry is the stroller — and, frustratingly, strollers rarely go on sale. Prime Day is one of the few times every year when you're likely to nab a deal. In 2020, 2021 and 2022, Amazon Prime Day deals included steep discounts on several popular and highly rated strollers. On the value-minded end of the spectrum, there are usually deals on Graco; on the luxury side, several Bugaboo strollers were discounted in 2022, including the full-size Bugaboo Lynx and the more compact Bugaboo Bee 6.

Considering a jogging stroller? Prime Day usually has at least one of those on sale as well — in 2022, there were deals on the Joovy Zoom and the BOB Gear Rambler, and in 2021 there were deals on the Thule Urban Glide and the Graco Fast Action.

Nursery furniture

Nursery furniture — cribs, bassinets, gliders, etc. — is another one of those product categories where you're unlikely to find discounts outside of a few set times every year. Prime Day is one of them. I wish I had known this back when I was buying a crib; in 2019, a few months before my daughter was born, I paid full price for a Babyletto Hudson crib — and then the exact same crib was 20 percent off on Prime Day, and I missed out on saving about $100.
