

Subject: Rhizo Fixer Plus Inoculant

To whom it may concern,

Our premade mixes are now inoculated with Rhizo-Fixer Plus. We have chosen this product for several reasons.

Besides introducing the necessary rhizobia bacteria for legume nodulation, Rhizo Fixer Plus has a fleet of other beneficial microbes including two phosphorus solubilizing organisms, Pantoea eucalypti and Pseudomonas baetica which are effective in a wide range of soil pH and work to improve phosphorus availability in the soil. Rhizo Fixer Plus also contains Azospirillum brasilense, a free living nitrogen fixing bacteria that can work with your non-legume plants to provide nitrogen to the system.

In addition, this product uses Terramax's proprietary encapsulation process so the biology in this inoculant can remain viable on the seed for up to two months, allowing us to mix with the seed for you and still getting good nodulation results if planted within two months.

Terra-Max, who makes Rhizo Fixer Plus for us, is a very reputable company whose products are used in organic settings often. Although this particular inoculant is not OMRI approved, it can qualify for organic use pending your certifier's approval. David Craigie from Terra-Max will be happy to assist you and your certifier with any particular questions about getting this product approved for organic use. You can reach out to him at david.craigie@terramaxag.com.

As a reminder for you and your certifier, the seed that we currently have in stock is not organic certified, but it is non-treated and non-GMO. If you need help checking for organic seed supplies, please let us know prior to processing your quoted order.
