Spring/Summer 2021
stocksandgreen.com

A person wearing a blue sweater and jeans is holding a large, rustic metal bucket filled with a variety of flowers. The bucket is overflowing with green foliage, including large heart-shaped leaves, and several bright yellow daisies, orange daisies, and purple pansies. The person is standing in a field of yellow wildflowers, and the background is a soft-focus green field.

Dear Customer

Stocks & Green was born out of a lifelong passion for plants, the joy in growing flowers for the home, and cooking with home-grown vegetables.

Our hand-picked range features our favourite plants to grow from seed. Whether for flowers, vegetables or herbs, the range is a mixture of old favourites and some new varieties that bring something unusual or different to your garden.

We like to share our know-how and offer selections of our favourite seeds, including Collections which are good for bees and wildlife, great for creating a cutting garden, edible flowers and much more... On the website you can find helpful information regarding each plant including detailed instructions on how to grow from seed and tips on aftercare.

Concerted efforts to be eco-friendly mean that where possible we pack with recycled materials (many can go directly on the compost heap or recycling bin).

We are a small independent business based in the UK, and we really do appreciate every individual order. We hope you enjoy your purchases and please do share the word about our small business with like-minded gardening friends & family.

Thank you & happy growing!

Flowers

Our flower seed A-Z

On the following pages you will find our A-Z of flower seeds. Annuals are a quick and easy way to bring colour into your garden - flowering the same year as sown, they allow you to plant a different selection each year. Meanwhile, biennials flower in their second year of growing. Perennials are popular for the 'lower maintenance' gardener as they are hardy and return year after year. You will also find a great selection of climbers, cutting flowers, bee-friendly plants and even edible ones to brighten up a salad.
