HERD MENTALITY

Video Call Ready Instructions

Herd Mentality is super-easy to play over video conferencing. Before you set up a call with your remote herders, don't forget to read the rules in the game beforehand or watch the how to play video on YouTube. Once you've explained the premise of the game to them, follow these simple instructions:

1 - The person who owns the game will be the Question Wrangler and Keeper-of-Scores for the whole game. But they can also play, so no one is left out of the herd!

2 - All players need to bring along a random item: a hat, banana, ceramic owl...anything that will become their 'Pink Cow' if they are unlucky enough to land it along the way.

3 - Players also need a pen and something to write on.

4 - To start, the Question Wrangler draws a card, reads the question aloud, then shows it to the camera.

5 - Everyone writes down their answers in secret.
(Remember to "moo" at anyone who is taking too long to answer.)

6 - Now take it in turns to reveal your answers.

7 - The Question Wrangler awards points where applicable. If someone was awarded the 'Pink Cow' for that terrible answer they just gave, they must place their object in view of the camera for everyone to see. And leave it there until they lose it.

8 - Keep playing like this until someone collects 10 points.
